

For a fourth Gen-Ed course requirement assignment I did, that would be a two-page writing assignment for my ENG-3110-1 American Novels course which was to analyze and write about a certain specific character, area, topic, or even theme from one of our required books either relating to our major or not.

When it comes to how I specifically did this assignment, that would be that I chose to write about a character from one of our books with discussing their overall identity and talking about how it shaped and influenced them in their life throughout the book from all of the different kinds of things that the character did along with also all of the various different kinds of factors that were associated with everything as well with how that all played a role in it overall with a couple of those being their background and also experiences as well.

For what I ended up learning from this assignment, that would be how to discuss and analyze a specific factor/element from a book that I read through a certain specific way with describing all of the important things about it with how they all relate to it in some way or another.
